

BROKERAGE COMMISSION RELATED TO TRANSFERS OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Transfer of financial instruments from another broker

The Brokerage Commission related to transfers of financial instrument from the Client's brokerage account held with another broker to the Client's brokerage account held with Lime Ltd (on any trading platform) is charged at the rate of 20% of the asset value, but no less than 200 USD for each tranche of the transfer. This commission is calculated on the date the financial instruments are credited to the Client's brokerage account.

Transfer of financial instruments from a DEPO account opened with any depository

The Brokerage Commission related to the transfers of financial instrument from a DEPO account held with any depository and opened in the name of the Client to the Client's brokerage account held with Lime Ltd (on any trading platform) is charged at the rate of 20% of the asset value, but no less than 200 USD for each tranche of the transfer. This commission is calculated on the date the financial instruments are credited to the Client's brokerage account.

Transfer of financial instruments to another broker

The Brokerage Commission related to transfers of financial instrument from the Client's brokerage account held with Lime Ltd (on any trading platform) to the Client's brokerage account held with another broker is charged at the rate of 20% of the asset value, but no less than 200 USD for each tranche of the transfer. This commission is calculated on the date the financial instruments are written off from the Client's brokerage account.

Transfer of financial instruments to the DEPO account opened with any depository

The Brokerage Commission related to transfers of financial instrument from the Client's brokerage account held with Lime Ltd (on any trading platform) to the DEPO account held with any depository and opened in the name of the Client is charged at the rate of 20% of the asset value, but no less than 200 USD for each tranche of the transfer. This commission is calculated on the date the financial instruments are written off from the Client's brokerage account.

*The above Brokerage Commission fees are not applicable to cryptocurrency transactions.

Individual conditions may be applicable depending on the type of the assets, their volume and place of transfer.

Transfers from/to brokerage accounts held in the name of third parties are strictly prohibited.

In addition to the above Brokerage Commission fees related to transfers of financial instrument, the Client shall reimburse Lime Ltd (the 'Company') for all expenses incurred by the Company in the process of executing the transfer.

In order for the Company to accept the order for execution of the transfer of financial instrument, the Client is obliged to provide the Company with the correct details of the sending/receiving broker/depository, as well as all documentation requested by the compliance department in accordance with the KYC (Know Your Client), SOF (Source of Funds) and DD (Due Dilligence) procedures of the Company.

The Company has the right to refuse to transfer financial instrument.